Join HeadsUp as a Business Partner: Rooted in San Rafael, Investing in Our Schools

I'm reaching out on behalf of HeadsUp, a nonprofit organization dedicated to enhancing the educational experience for students in San Rafael City Schools. As a local business, you play a vital role in sustaining the programs that shape the future of our community.

This year, our work is grounded in a simple but powerful idea: we are rooted in San Rafael. Many of the people who live, work, and lead in our community—including employees at local businesses—once sat in San Rafael City Schools classrooms. They are graduates of our schools, contributors to our local economy, and proof of what strong public education makes possible.

Good Schools Are Everyone's Business.

The HeadsUp Business Partner Program offers your organization an opportunity to invest in the very system that helped shape today's workforce and tomorrow's leaders. Strong schools create vibrant neighborhoods, a skilled workforce, and a thriving local economy. By partnering with HeadsUp, you help ensure that today's students—future employees, innovators, and community members—have access to the opportunities they deserve.

Your support directly strengthens programs that impact students across TK–12, including:

- 1. Arts Enrichment: Your contribution sustains and expands arts programs that foster creativity, confidence, and connection—skills that serve students well in school, work, and life.
- 2. College Access Initiatives: By supporting college access programs, you help break down financial and systemic barriers, ensuring that students' aspirations are not limited by circumstance.
- 3. Student Mental Health & Wellness: Your investment helps fund wellness centers and mental health resources, providing critical support for students navigating the challenges of today's world.

By joining our HeadsUp Business Partner Program, your organization will:

- Be recognized as a valued supporter of local education and community vitality
- Gain visibility through acknowledgment at events and in our communications
- Make a meaningful, lasting impact on students and families throughout San Rafael

We invite you to partner with us—rooted in the shared belief that when our schools thrive, our entire community thrives. You can return the enclosed business partner application or visit headsupsr.org to contribute online.

Thank you for considering this opportunity to invest in education, community, and the future of San Rafael. Together, we can ensure every student has the support they need to succeed—right here, where we are all rooted.

Warm regards,

Michelene Moayedi, Executive Director
